

Animal Sciences and Industry - Animal Products Option

Your Degree Option

The Animal Sciences and Industry curriculum combines studies in nutrition, genetics, reproduction, behavior, physiology, business, and technology with production, management and agribusiness skills. The goal of the industry is to produce safe, quality food animal products to meet consumers' demands both domestically and internationally. The Animal Products Option is designed for the student who seeks employment in the food industry. Students are required to take courses in food/meat processing and technology, food microbiology, food quality assurance, as well as elective courses from areas such as live animal production to courses in food safety and security.

Your Career

The strength of a degree earned in Animal Sciences is the diversity of career opportunities. They range from self-employment to jobs with large corporations. In the business world, positions include management, sales, product development, personnel, regulation, and field service. Education positions include county agent, teacher, research worker, and laboratory director. Communication businesses hire editors, field representatives, radio broadcasters, and public relations professionals. A wide range of enterprises employ K-State animal sciences graduates: artificial insemination services, feed companies, banks, equipment suppliers, cooperatives, breed associations, meat packers, food processors, dairy plants, feedlots, poultry breeders, equipment manufacturers, commercial hog and poultry farms, and ranching operations.

Get started!

The degree map on the reverse page will show you a listing of classes you need to take from Barton Community College and K-State to complete the Animal Science 2+2. This degree map has been reviewed and accepted by both schools as an illustration, which is subject to change. Many other combinations of courses may be possible, so students should contact a K-State representative or their community college advisor before committing to a particular transfer program.

To get started, contact the K-State 2+2 representative by calling 620-786-1188 or e-mail bartondce@k-state.edu.
