

2423 – Military Leave

The College is committed to protecting the job rights of employees absent on military leave. In accordance with federal and state law, it is the College's practice that no employee or prospective employee will be subjected to any form of discrimination on the basis of that person's membership in or obligation to perform service for any of the Uniformed Services of the United States. Specifically, no person will be denied employment, reemployment, promotion, or other benefit of employment on the basis of such membership. Furthermore, no person will be subjected to retaliation or adverse employment action because such person has exercised his or her rights under applicable law or this procedure. If any employee believes that he or she has been subjected to discrimination in violation of this procedure, the employee should immediately contact the Office of Human Resources.

Temporary (Two-Week) Military Leave

~~In addition to the rights and benefits provided to employees taking Extended Military Leave (as described in this procedure), eligible employees who must be absent from their job for a period of not more than ten working days each year in order to participate in temporary military duty are entitled to as many as ten days unpaid military leave. Written verification of the need for leave is required prior to leave being granted. All benefits will continue during an employee's temporary military leave.~~

All Other (Extended) Military Leave

~~Employees directed to participate in extended military duties in the U.S. Armed Forces that exceed ten working days will be placed on an unpaid military leave of absence status for a period of as long as five years and will be entitled to the rights and benefits described below, subject to the procedures outlined below. Written verification of the need for leave is required prior to leave being granted.~~

Eligibility

Employees taking part in a variety of military duties (voluntary or involuntary) are eligible for benefits under this procedure. Such military duties include leaves of absence taken by members of the uniformed services, including Reservists, National Guard members for training, periods of active military service, and funeral honors duty, as well as time spent being examined to determine fitness to perform such service. Subject to certain exceptions under the applicable laws, these benefits are generally limited to five years of leave of absence.

Procedures for All Military Leave

10. The EMC National Life Company voluntary supplemental group life policy will continue while an employee is on active military duty (with the exception of the Accidental Death and Dismemberment rider) as long as the employee continues to pay the overall (both employer and employee) premium rate while on a military leave of absence. The employee will need to complete the "Leave of Absence Rights" form designating his or her coverage choice.

Reemployment

Upon an employee's prompt application for reemployment (as defined below), an employee will be reinstated to employment in the following manner depending upon the employee's period of military service:

1. Less than 91 days of military service - (i) in a position the job that the employee would have attained held had if employment had not been interrupted by military service the employee remained continuously employed, so long as the employee is qualified for the job or can become qualified after reasonable efforts by the employer to qualify the employee; or (ii) in the position of employment in which the employee was employed on the date of the commencement of the service in the uniformed services, only if found the person is not qualified for such to perform the duties of the position described above after reasonable efforts by the College, in the position in which the employee had been employed prior to military service employer to qualify the employee.

If the employee cannot become qualified for either position described above (other than for a disability incurred in or aggravated by the military service) even after reasonable employer efforts, the employee is to be reemployed in a position that is the nearest approximation to the positions described above which the employee is able to perform, with full seniority.

2. 91 or More than 90 days and less than 5 years days of military service - (i) in a position that the job the employee would have attained if employment had not been interrupted by military service or a position of like seniority, status and pay, the duties of which the employee is qualified to perform held had the employee remained continuously employed, or a position of like seniority status and pay, so long as the employee is qualified for the job or can become qualified after reasonable efforts by the employer to qualify the employee; or (ii) if proved not qualified after reasonable efforts by the College, in the position the employee left, or a position of like seniority, status and pay, the duties of which the employee is qualified to perform in the position of employment in which the employee was employed on the date of the commencement of the service in the uniformed services, or a position of like seniority, status, and pay the duties of which the person is qualified to perform, only if the person is not qualified to perform the duties of the position described above after reasonable efforts by the employer to qualify the person.

If the employee cannot become qualified for either position described above, the employee is to be reemployed in any other position that most nearly approximates the above positions (in that order) the duties of which the employee is qualified to perform, with full seniority.—

3. Employee with a service-connected disability Disabilities incurred or aggravated while in military service – (i) if after reasonable accommodation efforts by the employer, an employee with a service-connected disability is not qualified for employment in the position he or she would have attained or in the position that he or she left, the employee will be employed in (i) any other position of similar seniority, status and pay for which the employee is qualified or could become qualified with reasonable efforts by the College or (ii) if no such position exists, in the nearest approximation consistent with the circumstances of the employee's situation must make reasonable efforts to accommodate an employee's disability so that the employee can perform the position that the employee would have held if the employee had remained continuously employed; or (ii) if despite reasonable accommodation efforts, the employee is not qualified for the position described above due to his or her disability, the employee must be employed in a position of equivalent seniority, status, and pay, so long as the employee is qualified to perform the duties of the position or could become qualified to perform them with reasonable efforts by the employer.

If the employee does not become qualified for either position described above, the employee must be employed in a position that, consistent with the circumstances of that person's case, most nearly approximates the position in (ii) in terms of seniority, status, and pay.

Application for Reemployment

An employee who has engaged in military service must, in order to be entitled to the reemployment rights set forth above, submit an application for reemployment according to the following schedule:

1. If service is less than 31 days (or for the purpose of taking an examination to determine fitness for service) - the employee must report for reemployment at the beginning of the first regularly scheduled working period that begins on the first next calendar day following completion of service and the expiration of eight hours after a time for safe transportation back to the employee's residence. , after allowance for safe travel home from the military duty location and an 8-hour rest period. If, due to no fault of the employee, timely reporting back to work would be impossible or unreasonable, the employee must report back to work as soon as possible.

2. If service is for 31 days or more but less than 181 days - the employee must submit an application for reemployment with Human Resources no later than 14 days following the completion of service. ~~If submission of a timely application is impossible or unreasonable through no fault of the employee, the application must be submitted as soon as possible.~~
3. If service is over 1801 days - the employee must submit an application for reemployment with Human Resources no later than 90 days following the completion of service.
4. *If the employee is hospitalized or convalescing from a service-connected injury - disability incurred or aggravated during the period of military service, the reporting or employee must submit an application for reemployment with Human Resources no later than ~~deadlines are~~ extended for up to two years following completion of service. The two-year period will be extended by the minimum time required to accommodate a circumstance beyond an individual's control that would make reporting within the two-year period impossible or unreasonable.

Exceptions to Reemployment

In addition to the employee's failure to apply for reemployment in a timely manner, an employee is not entitled to reinstatement as described above if any of the following conditions exist:

1. The College's circumstances have so changed as to make reemployment impossible or unreasonable. A reduction-in-force (position elimination or layoff) that would have included the employee would be an example.
2. Reemployment would pose an undue hardship upon the College.
3. The employee's employment prior to the military service was merely for a brief, non-recurrent period and there was no reasonable expectation that the employment would have continued indefinitely or for a significant period.
4. The employee's ~~separation~~ did not receive an honorable discharge from military service ~~was other than disqualifying under 38 USC Section 4304.~~

Documentation upon Return: 31 or More Days of Military Service

~~Upon the~~ An employee's manager will, application for reemployment, upon the employee's reapplication for employment, request that the employee shall provide the College with military discharge documentation ~~to that establishes: (1) the timeliness of the application for reemployment,; (2) the duration of the military service, employee has not exceeded the five-year service limitation; and (3) the employee did not receive a dishonorable discharge from the~~ military service.

~~If the required documentation is not readily available or doesn't exist, the College will reemploy the employee but should documentation become available that shows one or more of the reemployment requirements were not met, the College may terminate the employee.~~

General Benefits upon Reemployment

Employees reemployed following military leave will receive seniority and other benefits determined by seniority that the employee had at the beginning of the military leave, plus any additional seniority and benefits the employee would have attained, with reasonable certainty, had the individual remained continuously employed. ~~In addition,~~ An employee's time spent on active military duty will be counted toward ~~the employees~~ their eligibility for FMLA leave once they ~~employee~~ returns to ~~his or her~~ their job at the College. Additionally, upon reemployment, a covered employee will not be discharged except for cause for up to one year following reemployment.
