Presenter: Dean Elaine Simmons

ADVISORY BOARDS

Advisory boards are critical for continued and future success of the College's career technical education (CTE) programs. Representatives of business and industry advise career technical managers and educators while assisting with the development and maintenance of CTE programs. Members help ensure students have the skills necessary to compete and succeed in the workplace. Boards meet twice a year; however, depending on need, advisory board members are contacted and included in program planning on an ongoing basis. In the recent years, meetings have taken on a variety of formats, i.e. face-to-face meetings, GTM connections, conference calls and fully online (and interactive) get-togethers. This adaption in meeting delivery responds to member's hectic calendars and varied priorities. The following is an example of an online meeting:

These bodies assist Barton to provide student learning experiences and outcomes that meet the requirements and needs of specific industry career fields; thus, enhancing student success. Examples of such groups include: Occupational Safety & Health Administration (OSHA), Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), United States Department of Defense (DOD), National Automotive Technicians Education Foundation (NATEF), Commission on Accreditation of Allied Health Education Programs (CAAHEP), National Accrediting Agency for Clinical Laboratory Sciences (NAACLS), Kansas State Board of Nursing (KSBN) and Accrediting Commission of Education in Nursing (ACEN).

ESSENTIAL SKILLS

As follow-up to the April Ends report on Essential Skills, Dean Simmons shares with the Board of Trustees a recent publication developed by the Workforce Training & Community Education Division. This enhanced approach to the delivery of Essential Skills training will provide additional awareness and preparation of understanding and application of these desired workplace skills

ADULT EDUCATION

Barton offers access to instruction that leads individuals to prepare and potentially earn their Kansas State High School diploma. Students working towards this outcome take the General Educational Development (GED) test. This credential is recognized as key to employment opportunities, advancement, further education options and financial incentives.

Chris Lemon, Barton's Coordinator of Adult Education program, provides a PowerPoint presentation about the program.

In addition, Mr. Lemon is joined by Luke Seitz, Instructional Specialist (Ellsworth Correctional Facility) and Kathryn Jackson, A-OK Instructional Specialist (Ellsworth Correctional Facility) who will provide a brief overview of their roles. Adding to the presentation is the involvement of Mr. Cantu, current student inmate at Ellsworth Correctional Facility (attending via GTM). Mr. Cantu will discuss the educational opportunities he has experienced at the correctional facility, the impact they have had on him and provide an overview of his plans upon release from the facility.

Indicator #2: Students will have the essential skills to lead productive lives.

Presenter Jo Harrington

Completion of a Barton Community College degree template will enable students to:

Fundamental -1. Study a given subject critically, including processes to analyze and synthesize important parts of the subject, to ask appropriate and useful questions about the study of this subject, and to solve problems within the subject area.

Fundamental -2. Relate the relevance of a given subject to the individual student's life, to develop habits that encourage life-long, responsible and independent learning, and to apply appropriate and useful knowledge of the values, conventions, and institutions within an academic discipline.

Fundamental -3. Describe how history works, including how historical perspective can strengthen understanding of a given academic subject, and how the history of human endeavor has helped develop that subject.

Fundamental -4. Explain how technologies affect important parts of human life and how information technologies shape the study of a given subject.

Fundamental -5. Explain how culture develops through various aspects of human endeavor, how culture develops understanding of a given subject, and how a given subject develops within different cultures.

Assessment of the Fundamental Outcomes will serve as an indicator of the essential skills retained by our students and their ability to lead productive lives. To allow for a detailed demonstration/explanation of the data, the Institutional Assessment data will be presented one at a time over the next five years.

Assessing the Fundamental outcomes takes advantage of the Course Assessment Projects already in place at Barton. Course assessment asks faculty to assess the competencies or learning objectives of their course. An example would be a Post test for which specific questions are tied to specific competencies. It is one thing to see that the overall class average is 80%, but it is quite another to see that every student missed a particular question. Since the faculty member has already clearly identified which topic that question assesses, they can focus their efforts and make strategic improvements to their courses. In addition to the course learning objectives, the faculty have identified which fundamental outcomes are being assessed as well. Thus by pooling all courses this way, we gain a snapshot of how courses at Barton fit into the Fundamental Outcomes and the student comprehension of the various topics that relate. As such, the following data does not represent pass rates, rather it represents the percentage of correct responses covering a multitude of students, on questions relating to the relevant Fundamental Outcome over multiple courses.

Percentage of correct responses on course assessments relating to the outcomes

Current as of 08/30/2016

As stated, as there are five outcomes, each year the Board will be presented information specific to one of the outcomes. This year, Fundamental Outcome 4 will be discussed. The Outcomes again deals with the expectation that students upon completion of their degree will be able to explain how technologies affect important parts of human life and how information technologies shape the study of a given subject.
