Definitions

CCSSE - Barton has CCSSE data from the following dates: Spring 2003, Spring 2006, Spring 2008, and Spring 2010. CCSSE's survey instrument, The Community College Student Report, provides information on student engagement, a key indicator of learning and, therefore, of the quality of community colleges. The survey, administered to community college students, asks questions that assess institutional practices and student behaviors that are correlated highly with student learning and student retention. The Community College Student Report is a versatile, research-based tool appropriate for multiple uses. It is a:

- benchmarking instrument — establishing national norms on educational practice and performance by community and technical colleges.
- diagnostic tool — identifying areas in which a college can enhance students' educational experiences.
- monitoring device — documenting and improving institutional effectiveness over time.

Barton will be administering the CCSSE survey spring of 2011.

Community Relationships - Barton recognizes the long-term and mutually beneficial arrangement between the College and its Stakeholders. That's why our focus is on value enhancement with the goal of providing a more satisfying exchange between the College and our Communities we serve.
