

Academic Integrity Ambassadors

AY2023 - AY2024

Marcos Gonzalez

A Ft. Riley student pursuing a AS with a major in Psychology, Marcos was nominated by Instructor Jeremy Deckard who said, "He is a hard-working committed student." When asked why he believes he would be a good ambassador for integrity, Marcos replied, "I served 20 years in the Army and learned so much about integrity and speaking up when I made a mistake...It takes courage to work hard, study, and do all your work independently."

Honesty

Jonathan Beers

Jonathan is a member of the Barton Swim Team and Phi Theta Kappa on the Great Bend campus, pursuing a BS with a major in Psychology. He was nominated by Judy Jacobs who described him as "conscientious, organized, honest and trustworthy." Jonathan believes that integrity is important in all aspects of his life saying, "I carry these values with me daily. I am going through college with these values because I was raised with integrity."

Trust

Marina Clark

Studying at Ft. Riley, Marina recently moved to Kansas from Illinois. She was nominated by Instructor Jeremy Deckard because she is thoughtful, hard-working, and committed to furthering her education." She applies integrity values in her professional life as a para-educator with special education. She stated, "I try to instill responsibility in every child I work with. I think responsibility is a super important value to have because without it, there would be no accountability in life."

Responsibility

Tionna Caldwell

With plans to be a neo-natal nurse, Tionna is current member of Phi Theta Kappa on the Ft. Leavenworth campus. She was nominated by Director Erika Jenkins-Moss who noted, "Tionna has a passion for learning and understands that she will not agree with everyone but values those of a difference of opinion. Speaking up for peers whose opinions are not favored she reminds the class that fairness is needed." When asked about integrity, Tionna stated, "I like to help people for no personal gain. I take my moral compass with me everywhere."

Respect

Molly Norris

Coming to the Great Bend campus from North Carolina, Molly is currently pursuing an emphasis in Liberal Studies while participating on the Volleyball team. Molly believes Barton has helped her grow as a student and in her integrity. She stated, "Everyday I am consciously reminding myself of this gift of opportunity I have been given. It pushes me to reach my highest potential and support the people around me to do the same. She was nominated by Paula Bailey who said, "Her curiosity and work ethic as she developed her views, especially in Composition II, was exactly what an instructor hopes for in a writing student."

Fairness

Harley Headley

Harley is a member of four student organizations on the Great Bend campus, and was nominated by Director Rita Thurber. She nominated Harley because of "his willingness to help other students navigate Barton Campus." Harley noted the correlation between integrity hard work saying, "When I put my mind to something or when I am presented a task I try my best to succeed, Making sure to follow the rules of that task and achieve the expectations as well."
